EVERYMAN THEATRE ASSOCIATION – LET’S BE FRIENDS

The ETA was founded in 1959 to save the theatre from closure and to establish a club for theatregoers. The Everyman Theatre (originally the New Theatre and Opera House) was designed by the great Victorian architect, Frank Matcham. The auditorium is the oldest example of his work still in theatrical use. Opened by Lillie Langtry in October 1891, the theatre has continued to be a magnet for the stars of the day, welcoming Sir John Gielgud, Sir Laurence Olivier, Stephen Berkoff, Windsor Davies, Penelope Keith, Vanessa Redgrave, Nigel Havers, Alison Steadman, Pam Ayres, Felicity Kendal, Timothy West, Tom Conti, Simon Callow, Paul Merton, Al Murray, Michael McIntyre and Sir Ian McKellen.

The Everyman Theatre also has an excellent community and outreach programme and prides itself on the quality of our artistic and educational outreach work. As Gloucestershire’s main professional theatre, we are a cultural hub for the county, supporting a range of community groups, from schools and colleges to care homes, hospitals and the homeless. We run 9 community choirs, 7 youth theatre groups, dance classes for the over 60s, a professional development programme for writers, actors and practitioners, as well as a range of activities, to help people of all ages and abilities engage with the arts. There is also the first-class Irving Studio Theatre, presenting the best in small-scale and innovative theatre.

Your ETA Membership income supports the Everyman Theatre by providing much needed extra funding for a range of diverse events, including our extensive educational and community programme and helps maintain this beautiful building for future generations. It will enable our team of experienced actors and practitioners to continue to offer a wide range of learning and participation opportunities, both within the theatre and out in the community and educational settings.

So not only do you get to enjoy outstanding theatre at discounted prices, you are also supporting your local theatre too!
